A Year Of Celebration..

In the beautiful mountains of Upper East Tennessee, Milligan College offers its students more than just an academic and social experience. The fully accredited, four-year liberal arts school is affiliated with the Christian Churches and Churches of Christ and provides opportunity for spiritual growth as well. The unique character of Milligan College is cause for celebration every day, every year.

Celebration...

Students and professors alike entered the 1986-87 school year celebrating the newest arrivals on campus. One of the largest classes ever of freshmen gave everyone the joy of making new friends. Already in place when students arrived were the McCormick Dining Center, accompanied by the new food service, and the renovated Steve Lacy Fieldhouse. Construction had also begun on the new Student Union Building which was completed during second semester. So many new additions gave students and the campus a sense of rejuvenation and added to Milligan's "Year of Celebration."

Celebration...

Hand in hand with the new, students still carried out traditions which have long been a part of Milligan. The students celebrated throughout the year by participating in classes, vespers, open houses, musical groups, athletic events, and parties. Most important, of course, was the continued celebration of Milligan's oldest tradition—the celebration of unity in Christ.

Dedication

The Milligan College Buffalo staff respectfully dedicates the 1986-87 yearbook to Mrs. Phyllis Fontaine in recognition of her faithful service to Milligan College for the past 24 years. While at Milligan, Mrs. Fontaine has been Registrar, Associate Dean of Students, Dean of Students, and Director of Admissions. She is presently Registrar and Acting Academic Dean. Mrs. Fontaine, when she can take time out of her busy schedule, enjoys reading, knitting, and spending time with her grandchildren.

She states her plans for the future as wanting to take an early retirement from the Registrar's office and work part-time with the Alumni Association. Says Fontaine, "Since I have had personal contact with every single graduate in 24 years, I probably know more alumni than anyone else connected with the college (although Mr. Price, Coach Walker, and Prof. Sisk might argue this point)."

Mrs. Fontaine has proven herself to be a highly capable and efficient administrator, and her contributions to Milligan will always be remembered as sincere. The Buffalo staff wishes her the very best in her future endeavors.

A Year Of Celebration

Student Life

At A Glance

With each passing year, students at Milligan have put much effort into making the most of their spare time. The 1986-87 school year was no exception. The Student Life Section of the Buffalo is devoted to capturing that spirit of life that keeps the students going when they tire of the academic aspects of college.

The pictures and captions in this section are designed to show the students, not as students, but as people . . . people who are trying to enjoy their last few years of relative freedom before they enter the "real world". It is here that the reader sees the members of the Milligan Community at their best—behind the scenes, as well as in the spotlight.

Student Life has always been a favorite section of the yearbook because it is reminiscent of the "fun" part of living on campus. As the reader flips through these pages again and again, he should be able to remind himself, "THAT is what college was all about!"

Spirituality

Milligan prides itself on being a Christian institution, educating people to relate their Christian faith to their culture and to exert a positive Christian influence on their environment. Outside of the academic program, there are many opportunities provided for students to develop their spiritual lives. All students are required to attend chapel services on Tuesday. This is a time when the entire campus comes together for corporate worship.

The Spiritual Affairs Committee exists as a part of the Student Government to provide students with opportunities for Christian growth. This committee sponsors an informal Sunday night vespers service each week and I.C.U. (intensive care units) groups. I.C.U. groups are a combination Bible study, fellowship, and support groups for students, led by students.

Collegiate Church offers students a regular Sunday morning worship service geared toward student concerns and needs. Collegiate Church also sponsors activities during the year, such as retreats and special services.

Milligan strives to maintain an atmosphere conducive to spiritual growth and maintenance through dorm Bible studies, several Christian concerts and discipleship groups. As with any body, this effort is imperfect. As a result, there are many people on campus, students, faculty and administration alike, who are concerned about Christian committment, and how we, as an institution and as individuals, can impact our community and our world for our Lord.

Love One Another

Friendships have always been cause for celebration at Milligan College. The small family nature of the school itself creates an excellent source of opportunity for forming those special relationships of love and trust that everyone needs. Students have always taken advantage of these special opportunities, and a multitude of friendships are formed on campus each year.

Milligan students have not found it difficult to obey God's command to us, and to love one another. On their own initiative, they seem to have developed a unique love for each other with little effort, no doubt because they have shared so much of their lives together. Of course, the most outstanding common denominator among Milligan Students is a love for Jesus Christ: what better foundation on which to build a lasting friendship?

By the time each student is ready to leave Milligan's campus, he or she should be able to claim at least a small circle of close companions. Students can further celebrate that these companions are more than "college buddies"-they are friends who "love at all times!"

SweetHarts

Hart Hall had another great year during the 1986-87 school term. The dorm had many exciting open houses and activities this year. One of these activities was the secret pal program. This allowed residents to become acquainted with different people. It also promoted gift giving and a friendly atmosphere.

Dorm devotions also played an important role in the spiritual lives of Hart Hall residents. A prayer request board created a loving and caring atmosphere that all of the girls appreciated. Hart Hall provided an example in the area of spiritual growth that other dorms respected.

Many changes took place in Hart Hall this year. With Cal and Shari Lyford moving to Arizona after the first semester, some adjustments were necessary. Dena Brown and Lisa Pryor then moved in and took charge, much to the welcome of the Hart girls.

Webb Hall

Housing the majority of Milligan's male students, Webb Hall was one of the more active dorms on campus this year. The residents of Webb made many efforts to keep student life a little more interesting throughout both semesters.

Among its efforts to improve student life were Webb's open houses, which were usually well-planned. In addition to showing off the unique interior decoration of their rooms, the guys also consistently provided refreshments and entertainment. Weekly movies, too, were popular and much appreciated by those students who were unable to get into town on the weekends.

The position of head resident was shared by Coach Duard Walker and Cort Mills. Although their responsibilities were many, both men did a great job. Cort also found it easier to relate to his fellow residents as he actually lived with them in the dorm.

Although its setting on the back corner of campus gives it a sedate appearance, Webb has definitely developed quite an active character. The creativity and involvment of its residents have definitely added much to student life at Milligan.

Salute to Sutton

Every Milligan Student is in some way familiar with Sutton Hall, mostly because of its close ties with the (in) famous Milligan Cafe. The Joe and Lora McCormick Dining Center definitely makes this dorm one-of-a-kind, but the dining hall is not the only thing that makes Sutton and its girls unique.

The easy-going nature of the Sutton girls is shown in the patient way they deal with the side effects of the dining hall. With relatively little complaint, "Suttonites" have accepted the ordeal of new construction, the heat and "interesting" odors from the kitchen, and the extremely public nature of their lobby. These are problems anyone could do without, but the Sutton girls are proud of the family feeling they have developed. This feeling gives them something to fall back on when the inconveniences are overwhelming. Activities such as secret pals, dorm devotions, and dorm parties helped contribute to this close-knit atmosphere, while head residents Jim and Nancy Knowles lovingly devoted themselves to being "Mom and Dad" to the whole dorm.

Pardee Life

As usual, the residents of Pardee Hall had an interesting and exciting year. Most people don't see past the fireworks and the waterbombs which have earned them the nickname "Rowdies", but attitudes are changing. The guys in the old dorm at the foot of the hill are slowly trying to break away from the stereotype of being "too crazy to care".

The annual "Freshman waterslide" on Pardee's lawn, as well as the infamous initiation of its new residents gave many people the idea that all the "Rowdies" want to do is goof off. However, a certain amount of respect is due to the guys for their increased involvement with the school. Residents Rich Hall and Eric Hayden, for instance, demonstrated this effort to show more involvement. Rich was this year's editor of the Stampede, while Eric was elected sophomore class president. The "Rowdies" continue to show Milligan students that it is possible to work a little and still have a lot of fun.

The residents of Pardee do seem to have a little more of a "party" attitude than others. As far as changes that need to be made, though, let's stick to fixing up the building and leave the guys alone.

A New Hardin

Hardin Hall has always been the quiet, almost unnoticeable girls' dorm on Milligan's campus. However, a lot of changes have taken place in the "Hardin Hilton" since last year. Due to these changes, the girls have had a more fun and productive year than ever before.

One of the biggest differences this year was a sudden predominance of sophomores in the dorm, which has always been for upperclassmen. Perhaps this one change affected the character of the dorm the most. For instance, this was the first year for Hardin to have a team in the "powder-puff football" competition. The open houses at Hardin were some of the favorites this year as well. The dorm became very involved with fun themes such as "Going Hawaiian" and reliving the 50's at "H'Arnold's".

Don't be too surprised, to discover that the quiet, out-of-the-way girls of the past are becoming more lively, more noticeable, and more involved than ever with their school.

Lori Hertzog demonstrates her love for Hardin by hugging the wall.

Old Friends Return

Fond memories were recalled as the alumni returned to campus during Alumni Weekend, October 24 to 26. The weekend began with a banquet in the McCormick Dining Center.

Saturday's events started off early with the 5-K Road Race. A matinee performance of "Story Theatre" was held with a number of alumni in attendance. Other activities in the afternoon included: Alumni Choir formation and practice; tours through Little Hartland, given by Dr. Leggett; a reception with present and former faculty.

It came to a close with a Bible School class taught by Mr. Fred Norris ('56) and a Worship Service led by Mr. Bob Walther ('56). This weekend brought joy to the graduate's hearts as they remembered the good times they had at Milligan College.

A 5-K Road Race attracted many local runners, along with alumni and students, to Milligan's campus.

Sutton Hall, like many of the other dorms, decorated their dorm to welcome the Alumni.

Not only are all alumni welcome, but any new additions to their families are also present.

Many students participated in the activities of Alumni Weekend. Kevin Truesdale and Tony Gore are involved with the Collegiate Church service.

Founder's Day

Founder's Day Weekend has always been a time of celebration during the fall semester at Milligan College. The highest point of the weekend is the presentation of the Founder's Day Daughter Award. Senior girls are nominated for this award by various clubs and organizations on campus. Final selection is made by the student body during a convocation service. The candidates as well as the recipient of the award are selected on academic achievement and Christian character.

This year's introductions were emceed by Mr. Eugene Price, who previously skated out from behind the curtains to greet his captive audience. Sue Fitch was chosen to be the 1986 Founder's Day Daughter. She is a member of the Lady Buffs basketball team and very involved in various organizations on campus. Tina Weller received the honor of being chosen runner-up. Although only two women were selected for this award, all of the girls selected to be candidates should be recognized for their valuable contributions to Milligan College.

Missions Abroad

The 1987 Spring trip to Haiti was both a lot of fun and a lot of work. Port-au-Prince and the kamikaze tap-taps were among the first to greet us upon arrival. The work at Christianville included painting the church and the nutrition center, filing at the clinic, mending fences, and trying new shoes on hundreds of children, although we had no knowledge of Creole and French. Despite this handicap, the people were friendly, and even invited us to their homes. The trip to Jean-Jean was especially exciting. Within the last year, Christianville has built a church and started a school in this small mountain village. Many of the people at Christianville and Jean-Jean were so happy to have the chance to be part of a church and a school.

On Saturday, we all went to Port-au-Prince and did some shopping at the Iron-Market (a cultural experience). The most valuable thing was the chance to see first-hand the needs of the people and participate in the Lord's work being done in Haiti.

A Gala Event

This year's Sweetheart Banquet proved to be a great success as Milligan students were given another chance to celebrate friendships they had built throughout the year. The overall attitude was that the food, entertainment, and an atmosphere were all improved over banquets of previous years.

The Valentine's Day event started nicely as sharply dressed students strolled through a section of the cafeteria to enjoy appetizers and punch. Soon the students filed into the main dining hall for dinner, obviously pleased to know they would be served hand and foot by the various faculty and administration members. After an excellent meal, the students enjoyed special entertainment emceed by Eugene Price with music by Vicki Ryden from Atlanta, Georgia. Pronouncement of class sweethearts was also a highlight of the evening.

A great deal of organization and imagination went into this year's banquet, making it a great success. Hopefully, this year's accomplishment signified a new direction which will be taken by banquets in the future.

Spotlight

Milligan theatre introduced a new twist to its audiences this fall in the production of Story Theatre, a collection of eleven tales drawn from popular children's literature. Professor Richard Major directed a cast of twelve students who demonstrated their versatility in telling and acting out the stories at the same time. They also had to develop several characters each for the show and make transitions from criminals to kings and from peasants to popes. The show had something for everyone in tales for the young and old alike in the timelessness and humor.

The cast of Story Theatre: Leslie Frasher, Sarah Hasty, Phil Holdman, Jim Potter, Jonathon Chambers, Rick Hessler, Rich Hinz, Mr. Major, Karen Crites, Chris Lyons, Rebecca Inscho, Joy Jones, Becky Taylor, Amy Robinson, Tracy Main, Lisa Shatterly, Joel McNett, Randy Landry, Karyn Moreland

Karen Crites was expecting an Eskimo kiss, but Jonathon Chambers forgot.

The mystery of identity is revealed to all.

"What!!! You did not read your assignment," exclaims Dr. Knowles.

"Go ahead Karen . . . Teach him a lesson," says Julie Pierce.

"Come on Ron old boy, pay off those debts."

Show Time

On March 11, 12, and 13 the lights went down and the actors entered Derthick Theatre to present Shekespeare's Comedy of Errors. The plot involved numerous cases of mistaken identity in the town of Syracuse. These "errors" created many hilarious predicaments in the play. A Laurel and Hardy kind of slapstick kept the audience involved with the Shakespearean comedy.

The cast contained a variety of students and even a celebrity. Dr. Jack Knowles played the Duke of Ephesus with all the poise that befits a Humanities professor. The entire cast did an outstanding job in performing the Comdey of Errors.

Christmas Past

Every December, Milligan's Madrigal Dinners are the highlight of the Christmas season for the many people who attend. Although this year saw many changes in the production, the event remained a success as well as a source of pride for the entire school community.

Directed by a few faculty and staff members, the Madrigal Dinners continued to be extremely dependent on the support of the students. This year saw the demand for those students increase as the cafeteria annex allowed for more guests each night. From the excellent music to the professional service, success was realized only by the students in all aspects of the program.

Madrigal Dinners played a large part in Milligan's "Year of Celebration" this past year. Thanks to the many singers, student workers, and faculty sponsors, Milligan once again retained its longstanding reputation for musical excellence with the success of this production.

Catch the Wave

Wednesday, April 22—As students awoke around campus, they found the flyers which quickly assured them that the great day had finally arrived: "No classes. Your only assignment is to have fun!" Milligan's great tradition of the annual Wonderful Wednesday holiday was being continued.

The day began with a plentiful brunch in the dining hall where students were acquainted with the "Catch the Wave" theme. Surrounded by Coca-Cola paraphernalia, they signed up to participate in events held in the afternoon.

The sunny, clear weather was a great complement for the beach-type motif of the day. Students in beach apparel soaked up the rays as they played volleyball on a sand court, ran relay races, or played frisbee and softball. On the wetter side, they tested their strength in a tug-o'-war across the creek or struggling to avoid the infamous Pardee Waterslide. For less energetic people, there was a 3-D movie in Hyder, a pizza party, and free admission to the drive-in to see "Back to the Future".

Thanks to the Social Affairs Committee, this year's Wonderful Wednesday was a rousing success, with something in it for everyone. Upholding this one of Milligan's many traditions is no doubt an easy job!

Night Life

One of the many privileges of being an upperclassman at Milligan College is the opportunity to attend the Junior-Senior Banquet. The Junior class of 1988 under the direction of Brian Nix slaved all year in order to sponsor this year's banquet. It was held at the plush Sheraton Inn in Johnson City on April 18, 1987. Upperclassmen, along with their guests, were dressed in their finest for the evening to come. The banquet included an elegant dinner and entertainment was provided by Anita LaVallee and Billy Haskins. The program's emcee was Mr. Eugene Price, a Milligan favorite, who delivered the Senior Superlatives. The presentation of the Senior slide show allowed students to relive fond memories and shed some tears. The Junior-Senior Banquet was a great success this year in saluting the class of 1987 for the many contributions they brought to Milligan College.

"I do not know that couple behind us, but don't you think they're simply dashing." says Lori Gibson.

"No Andy, you can't stand in front!"

Lea Anne Barkes hopes that her father won't find her at the banquet.

Joy Jones and Becky Witt seem to be enjoying themselves at this grand affair.

"You won't find the dress in just any store." confides Missy Buckles.

"Golly Robert, this looks like the happening place to be!" exclaims Lisa Shatterly.

"Okay, which one is my date?" cries Phil Holdman.

Airtight!

The newest building on campus, the Steve Lacy Fieldhouse, received a facelift this year. First of all, the leaky old "balloon" roof was removed, and a more substantial steel roof replaced it. The basketball court was improved as well, as the older floor was replaced with an impressive wood surface.

The fieldhouse is a very important facility at Milligan. It hosts all home basketball and volleyball games, and has an Olympic size swimming pool which serves both students and community. Even such sports as wrestling, aerobics, and raquetball have found a home there.

Milligan is very proud of her sports facility. Providing recreation and entertainment for many people, the fieldhouse is one of the many ways the school has to reach out and interact with its surrounding community.

Obviously the most diligent and hardworking men were hired for the job.

What was once a hole in the ground, now stands a new Student Union Building.

At this point in construction, it seemed to many people that a new S.U.B. was in the very distant future.

Central Figure

Everyone on campus spent the 1986-87 school year eagerly awaiting the grand opening of the school's newest addition, the McMahan Student Center. Students and faculty alike anticipated their chance to begin using the facility, which replaced the older S.U.B., much-loved but long in need of improvement. Ground breaking for the new building occurred just prior to the fall semester, and the S.U.B.'s progress was carefully traced throughout the year by the entire Milligan community. Early-rising Humanities students passing the construction site twice a week rarely failed to comment on the latest achievements of the everpresent building crew.

Although progress appeared slow at times, students were assured that construction was "right on schedule".

Unfortunately, graduating seniors did little more than watch the building grow, and occasionally climbed its scaffolding. For the underclassmen, though, this newer, larger, and more centrally located Student Union Building looks to be a great source of enjoyment and activity in the coming years.

Fine Dining . . .

Eating has always played a very important role in the lives of college students, and Milligan students take no exception to this rule. The new McCormick Dining Center and the Student Union Building were therefore two of the more important buildings on campus this year.

For the very first time, Milligan adopted a food service to cater to the students' needs. As the students sat down in the expanded cafeteria, they also sat down to new and different food choices. As with anything new, this move met with a great deal of controversy.

As they welcomed the renovated cafeteria, students in turn prepared to bid farewell to the original SUB. Those who refused cafeteria cuisine often found their next alternative in the old building, constructed by students themselves in the 1960's. It offered drinks, snacks, and a variety of grill items, as well as a haven for study breaks and student fellowship. The new SUB was finished late in the second semester.

"Sir, that bill comes to $23.49. The cafeteria wasn't too tasty tonight, was it?"

Kathy Gable must have found the hot food line less than appetizing.

"Now Alan, Mom always said you needed green vegatables too."

A Year Of Celebration

Sports

Fall Baseball

Fall baseball is a time of practice, exhibition games and getting to know each other. The 1986 Fall Baseball team consisted of 31 freshmen and 12 verterans, including captains Pat Stuart and Mark Duncan. With so many new faces, it would have seemed that the season would not have gone so well—but it was super! The team won 24 out of 38 games which included beating East Tennessee State University three out of five times.

Coach Jennett said the key factor of this season was the superb coaching of Assistant Coach Mike Hollowell who was in charge of the defense. The improvement seen was tremendous. Coach Hollowell stressed the fundamentals of fielding and throwing the ball while also allowing team members playing time in various positions to see where they could best benefit the team.

The other key factor that Coach Jennett stressed was the support of the fans. He said "whether we won or lost, everyone had a kind word." This support was greatly appreciated by the players as well as the coaches.

Coach Hollowell watches with a keen eye.

Lady Buffs Volleyball

The Lady Buffs volleyball team, under the direction of Coach Linda King, was a force to be reckoned with. Six freshman players added a new life to the team which ended the season with a 28-14 record. They placed 1st in the Emory-Henry Tournament and 2nd in both the tournaments at Radford and Milligan. They also placed 4th in the district and 2nd in the conference. They had a very successful season and we look forward to an equally challenging season next year.

Men's Basketball

If one word described the attitude of the 1986-87 men's basketball team, it would be perseverance. They had a rough season with a record of 4-27, but they never gave up. Despite being a young team—consisting of eight veterans, ten newcomers, and a new coach—the Buffs rallied together to do their best, even with a tough schedule and injuries to several key players. The Buffs took a winning turn at the end of the season, winning three out of their last five games. This was especially nice for Trevor White who has been a tremendous asset. He was chosen All-Conference and NAIA All-District. He also scored 1,816 points and became Milligan's all-time third leading scorer. Next season looks promising with nine returning players and still an attitude of perserverence.

Women's Basketball

The Lady Buffs had another winning season this year with a record of 18 wins and 12 losses. We finished third in the Tennessee Valley Athletic Conference after being picked to finish fifth in the pre-season poll. One of the most exciting games was when the Lady Buffs played and beat the ladies of East Tennessee State University 92 to 84. ETSU was just one of the three Division I schools with whom the Lady Buffs went head to head, the other two being UNC-Asheville and Kentucky State University. In all of these games the Lady Buffs came back with the victories.

Four seniors will graduate in May: Toy White, Sharon Butler, Sue Fitch, and Kristi Robinson. They were a major influence on our team this season. Special recognition goes to Toy White who received All-Conference Player. And congratulations to the whole '86-'87 Lady Buffs team and to God be the glory.

CHEERLEADERS

The 1986-87 Milligan Cheerleading Squad was quite unique! The squad consisted of six freshmen and two returning seniors. There were a lot of obstacles to conquer as soon as the year began. The first obstacle was buying new uniforms which the cheerleaders desperately needed. They sold doughnuts, suckers and candysticks til as they put it, "we were sick!" The uniforms looked great and the girls proved to work well together. The two seniors provided the leadership that was necessary to encourage the freshmen. The squad has six girls who will be capable of building an excellent squad for the 1987-88 season.

POM-PON GIRLS

Mark Madden has been the Milligan Buffalo for the past two years. His dedication and enthusiasm was greatly appreciated by both players and fans. Thanks, Mark, for doing such a good job!

The 1986-87 Pom-Pon squad did a great job in providing half-time entertainment for the fans who supported the basketball teams. The 11-member squad performed routines to "Boy in a Box" by Cory Hart, "Control" by Janet Jackson, and "Twist and Shout" by Heard It Thru the Grapevine. They could also be found selling kiss-o-grams on Valentines Day and doughnuts throughout the year. The squad will only loose four seniors next season so look for another exciting season of half-time performances.

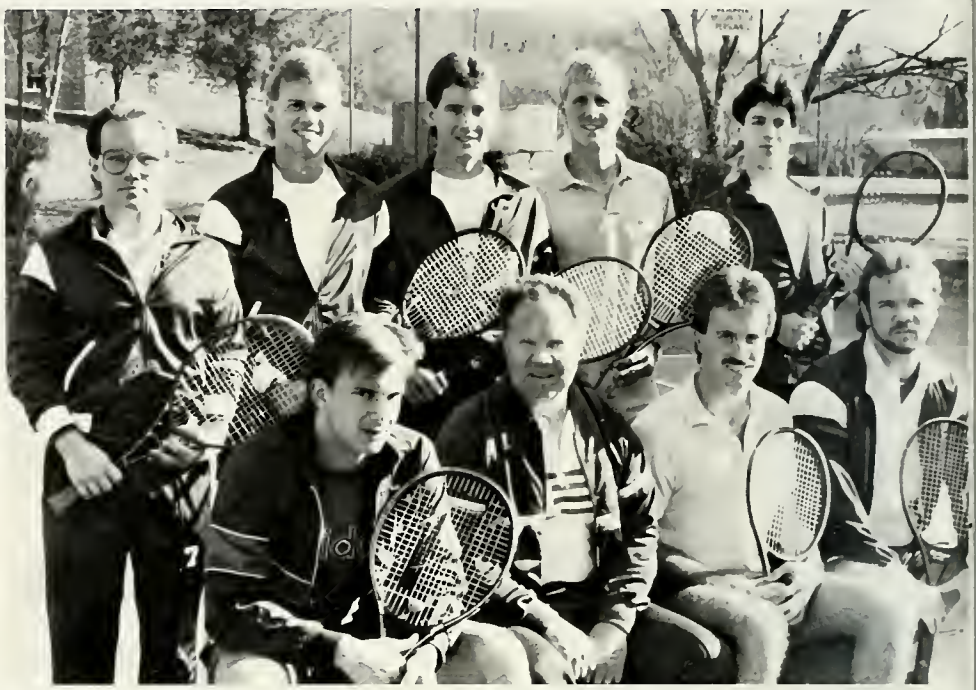
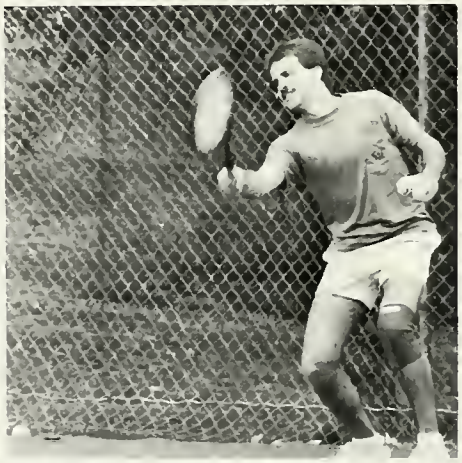
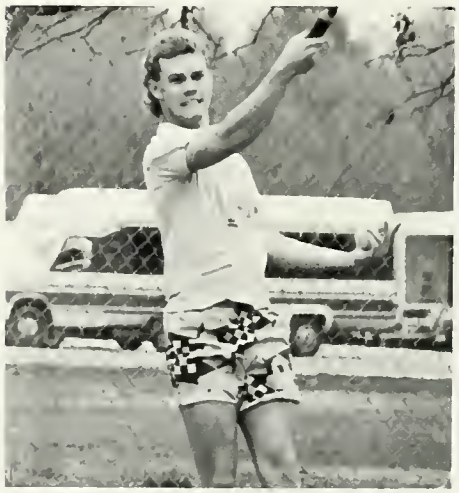
Men's Tennis



The 1987 men's tennis team had a good season with a high degree of improvement. The team consisted of four returning players and three new ones. One of the highlights of the season was the team's trip to the TVAC tournament in Nashville. For three days they enjoyed competing with and observing other NAIA teams from Tennessee. Although the team is losing three top players to graduation, the nucleus of players returning for next year looks very promising.

Standing: Keith Tolbert, Rich Hall, Ron Blackmore, Darin Wolfe, Ron Dove. Sitting: Kyle Ray, Coach Duard Walker, Tim Smith, Ed Walter.





Women's Tennis

The 1987 Women's Tennis team experienced a season filled with new beginnings. It was a season characterized by many new players and a new coach—Renée Phillips. She felt it was important to work with each player individually on their weaknesses in order to strengthen the team as a whole. Winning was nice but Coach Phillips felt it more important to stress that each player do their best. Out of the ten member team, eight will be returning, so next season looks very promising.

SPRING BASEBALL

The 1987 Spring season of the mighty Buffs has been very successful. They finished third in the conference with a 20-16 record and 11-7 in districts. All-conference players for this season were juniors Jeff Scott and Eddie Holland and freshman standout pitcher A.R. Rhea. Eddie Holland was leading hitter with .420 batting average, 13 homeruns, and 40 RBI's. Jeff Scott was third leading hitter, earning a .380 average and hitting four homeruns, also earning himself the Gold Glove Award. A.R. Rhea received outstanding freshman and best pitcher. These new members added much to the team this year as did the outstanding senior players—Pat Stuart, Dale Lynch, and Steve Sims.

Women's Softball

Rain was the trademark of the 1987 Softball Team. Because of this, the team had somewhat of a discouraging season being rained out of ten of their games and never once being able to play a home game. After all the work they had put this year into upgrading their field—they were only able to practice on it twice. But despite these setbacks the team had a good attitude and won eight out of their 17 games.

The team mostly consisted of freshmen with a few returning veterans. Captains Sharon Butler and Karen Nave provided good team leadership and added much to the team. Coach Linda King is optimistic for next year with most of the team returning and having the experience of working together this season, that is, as long as the sun is shining!

GOLF TEAM

Milligan's 1986-87 Golf Team had a good season for being only in its second year of existence. This year's team was the first to be able to attend the Conference Tournament held in Cleveland, Tennessee. They did well and came in fourth in their conference. Next season looks promising as half the team will be returning. This year's team would like to thank Dean Derry for being a supportive and enthusiastic advisor.

Powder-Puff football at Milligan College is a sight to behold. The games are held in the fall and this year all three women's dorms were represented. When the first ball was snapped the ladies of Hart and Sutton Halls gave it all they had. These teams began to tear up the field but, in the end the score stood—Hart 18, Sutton 6. Then one week later, the Heartbreakers of Hart Hall came to meet their next opponent, the Hardin Hammers. Tensions were high and the teams were tough but once again the ladies of Hart came out on top—12 to 0.

Intramurals

So you say you played a little volleyball and dribbled around with basketball in high school? Or you got together on Saturday mornings with the guys for a little touch football? You say you used to aerobicize three times a week to a Jane Fonda tape, but just found it too boring to motivate yourself any longer? Here at Milligan College, opportunities abound for you to show off your inborn talents, without the pressure of a winning season. Welcome to the world of intramurals and Aerobics!!

This year Milligan offered basketball, 3-man volleyball, soccer, softball, racquetball, and football throughout the school year to those students who wished either to play a team sport, enjoy a couple hours of exercise, or just to vent a little frustration of the pressures of school. Aerobics - taught by two awesome instructors, Natalie Barker and Debbie Gates - was offered to women and men alike who enjoyed extreme physical pain. So, no matter what area you enjoy most, the Intramurals program at Milligan has offered a "large quantity and wide variety" of sports that will undoubtedly help you get invovled!

A Year Of Celebration

Academics

Here at Milligan . . .

As test time approaches, students scatter to various places on and off campus to attempt to buckle down and study. The test grade will prove whether they are running from the test itself, or really studying. Some students find seclusion in the library, while others retreat to Derthick or to the privacy of their own dorm rooms.

Perhaps the feeling of being surrounded by so many books in the library creates the slim hope that osmosis will occur. The classroom atmosphere in Derthick and Hyder enhances the opportunity for students to associate their surroundings with their material. Stretching out on the bed or curling up in the lobby in grubbies lets the student be himself in his own routine of studying. Still others study while doing mundane weekly activities such as laundry.

All things considered, studying need not be lonely. Most study sessions become social gatherings—as misery loves company!

"This stuff is ridiculous!"

"Yeah, but are we supposed to know that for the test?"

. . . and study . . .

Right: "Looks like this is going to be a late one."

"Accounting always makes my mouth go funny!"

"I give up!"

It's all Greek to Ron Kastens.

. . . and STUDY!

Fellowship

Academics at Milligan doesn't include just the classroom. It incorporates personalities, experiences, competencies, as well as studying. By getting to know others, students learn behavior traits and form lasting relationships that will help them in their future careers. Milligan trains ministers to preach in evey walk of life, not only in so-called Christian vocations, but also wherever there is a need to reach non-Christians.

Our friends will always love us, no matter what.

Pardee guys never relax. It's study all the time!

Some of us get a little rowdy after a night of reading.

The library is a great place to find someone else who doesn't want to study.

Freshmen learn quickly that Milligan can be fun, too.

The Jr./Sr. Banquet is a reward for a long year of study.

Sometimes a little T.V. helps relieve the pressure.

Even Sophomores take a break to relax and visit.

One-Act Plays

On May, 4, 5, 6, Alpha Psi Omega presented its first annual festival of one-act plays. They were performed on the Hart Hall courtyard on a make-shift stage with a simple black backdrop.

Participation was encouraged for even those without previous drama experience, although the plays were presented mainly as partial fulfillment of Mr. Major's Directing class requirements. Amy Snyder directed The Actor's Nightmare by Christopher Durang. Randy Landry directed The Loveliest Afternoon of the Year by John Guare. Rick Hessler directed The Zoo Story by Edward Albee. Julie Pierce directed Patio by Jack Heifner. Adam Thornton directed Graceland by Ellen Byron. And Jerianne Seiter directed Next by Terrance McNally.

Marion Cheever (Phil Haldman) and Sgt. Thech (Mindy Thackston) meet when he gets drafted into the army in Next.

He (Chris Slone) and she (Sarah Cummins) experiment in experience in a park in New York in The Loveliest Afternoon of the Year.

George Spelvin (Robbie Phillips), Meg (Beth Wolfe), Sarah Siddons (Leslie Frasher), Dame Ellen Terry (Kristine Duncan), Henry Irving (Chris Lyons), and the Executioner (Curtis Brunn) stand in confusion as George is mistaken to be an understudy in their show in The Actor's Nightmare.

Bev Davies (Anita LaVallee) and Rootie Mallert (Sarah Hasty) camp out in front of Elvis Presley's mansion three days before it "opens" for the public in Graceland.

Peter (Marc Strunk) and Jerry (Scott Neff) talk seriously at a New York Zoo as Jerry contemplates ending his life in The Zoo Story.

A Semester Abroad

The Semester Abroad program offered through Milligan College is truly a life-changing experience. It is rare when an individual gets to visit Europe, but it is even more special when the person gets to live and work with the people there. Students who study at such places as the Selly-Oak Colleges and Birmingham University are often surprised to find that what is common and accepted thought in the United States may be seen as strange and unusual to a native of a different land. The art, history, and literature learned from books and films in Humanities classes take on new dimensions when tied with the reality of settings such as Chartres Cathedral, the Parthenon, and the Tower of London. The beauty of the different lands and the mystery of the different peoples in Europe create an educational setting that cannot be matched. The Semester Abroad program is one opportunity that is a guaranteed life-changing experience—and one not to be missed!

Awards Convo

The Academic Awards Convocation was held May 7, 1987 in Seeger Chapel with Mrs. Fontaine presiding. During the ceremony, Dr. Leggett announced that an anonymous donor had given Milligan a gift of $1.6 million in stocks in order to develop our Communications major. This was a gladly received surprise, as were many of the awards presented. Mrs. Nipper also made many scholarship announcements, which are too numerous to mention here. We extend our congratulations to all.

Recognition

Clockwise: Tom Tomlinson, Jim Potter, Ron Dove, Roger Roberts, Darin Smith, Tina Weller, Anita LaVallee, and David Eversole.

Upon the announcement made by Mrs. Phyllis Fontaine, these eight Seniors were recognized for their academic excellence by becoming members of Who's Who Among American College Students. This is a national honor based upon a student's academic record, as well as leadership qualities and community contributions. The BUFFALO staff would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the above students and wish them the best of success in their future.

A Year Of Celebration

Organizations

E. WELSHIMER MEMORIAL LIBRARY
MILLIGAN COLLEGE, TENN. 37682

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega was organized an honorary dramatic fraternity for the purpose of providing an honor society for those doing a high standard of work in the theatre. A nationally recognized theatre honorary, the Milligan cast charter dates back to October 1, 1938 when Dimple Hart Christian served as advisor to the organization. Primarily a service organization, Alpha Psi members earned their membership though active participation in the Milligan College Theatre Program. Under the direction of advisor, Richard Major, Alpa Psi implemented a theatre tour in the spring to area elementary schools as a major fund raising project. The officers of the club were President Karyn Moreland, Vice-President Rick Hessler, Secretary Traci Main, and Treasurer Amy Snyder.

Circle K

The Circle K Club was a service oriented club which provided assistance and services for the community, the school, individuals and groups. It was sponsored locally by the Johnson City Metropolitan Kiwanis Club. The advisor to the Circle K Club was Mr. Eugene Price. Various activities included sponsoring a Big Brother and Sister program with the East Tennessee Childrens Home and visitation with the elderly through the Volunteer Johnson City Program. Officers include President Keith Tolbert, and Secretary Rebecca True.

Delta Kappa

Delta Kappa, a women's organization, was headed by President RonnAnn Naedele, Vice-President Stephanie Conley, Secretary Julie Pirkl, and Treasurer Melanie Downs. Mrs. Jean Mullins was the advisor to the group. The club's objective was to serve the Milligan community as well as the community at large. They accomplished their objective with activities such as a Halloween Carnival which was open to the public, along with co-sponsoring the bike-a-thon for St. Jude's Childrens Hospital on September 27th.

Science Club

The Science Club at Milligan was under the direction of Dr. Julia Wade with Karen Crites as President, Norma Nehren as Vice-President, and William Lohr as Treasurer. Throughout the year guest speakers came to share their field of expertise with students seeking information relating to science careers. In addition to this, the club traveled to Washington D.C. April 8-12 for their annual field trip.

Front row: Sally Miller, Pammela Hoffman, Lisa White. Second row: Carolyn Chalmers, Cindy Stuck, Patricia Gouge. Third row: RonnAnn Naedele. International Awareness Club

The International Awareness Club strived to encourage an interest and understanding of foreign customs as well as an understanding of students from other countries. President Cathy Brown directed the group and organized the meetings, presentations and the food preparation.

Service Seekers

The purpose of the Service Seekers was to serve Christ by serving others. Throughout the year the students strived to serve others through devotionals, songs, and fellowship. Jamie Smith was the president of the organization.

First row: Cathy Brown, Beth Wolfe, Chris Lyons, and Ken McNeff. Second row: Lisa White, Tim Getter, and Sarah Beth Simmons. Third row: Becky Fry.

MENC

The Music Educators National conference was an organization of musicians and music educators. The members were dedicated to promote music appreciation and achievement in the public schools. Throughout the year MENC sponsored many activities, including the sending of Christmas care packages to students in December.

SCEC

Student Council for Exceptional Children provided an atmosphere where those interested in special education heard speakers and learned more about this field. The SCEC members helped special children and supported them by contributing financially to programs designed for their benefit.

Higher Ground

Higher Ground was a new addition to Milligan's repertoire of organizations. The main aim was to achieve "Higher Ground" in cultural understanding by exploring personal and social perspectives in "the world." Higher Ground was a collection of people who felt the need to learn through discussion. They brought inspiration to the campus in such ways as providing speakers for chapel/convo and a column in the Stampede. This organization was founded in September of 1986.

Association of Christian Ministries

The Association of Christian Ministries' aim at Milligan was to serve all students, but mainly those going into the ministry. The Association held meetings and seminars, open to all students, with very interesting and qualified speakers. This club gave students a chance to discuss topics on various aspects of the Christian Ministry.

Heritage

Heritage is a six-member acapella singing group. During the school year, they traveled every weekend to sing at various churches across the country. During the summer vacation, Heritage was seen and heard at churches, youth conventions, Christian conventions, and C.I.Y.'s. Heritage performed a two-fold service. First and foremost, they presented Jesus Christ and His love through song. Secondly, Heritage represented Milligan College and recruited for the admissions office. The members not only sang well, but were also dedicated Christians.

Pep Club

The pep club served the Milligan community by promoting school spirit. They encouraged athletes and stirred enthusiasm among fans. Among their many activities the pep club provided the fans with shakers and sponsored pizza bashes after some home games. The club's advisor was Barbara Dabney along with president Becky Taylor, vice-president Leslie Fowler, and secretary Lori Fields.

Buffalo Ramblers

The Buffalo Ramblers hiked almost every weekend to a mountain top, waterfall, or deep into a cave. Each fall and spring they organized camp outs as well. Weather did not prevent the Ramblers from enjoying God's creations of mountains, waterfalls, forests, and seasons. All members of the Milligan Community were welcome to ramble with this group.

Just one big happy familyi

Stampede

The Stampede was Milligan's official student newspaper. It was published monthly and used to keep the students informed on current issues and activities. In the spring of '87 leadership of the Stampede changed hands from editor Rich Hall to Rick Hessler and co-editors Sandy Taylor and Ginger Johnston.

Staff: Claudia Hill, Ron Dove, Rick Hessler, Jim Wood, Sarah Hasty, Curtis Brunn, Andrea Ritze, Norma Nehren, Tanya Mullings, Sandy Taylor, Ginger Johnston, Ed Walter, Chris Slone, Ken Margolf, Patty Hull, Rachel Sweitzer

Editor: Rick Hessler

Helicon

The Helicon was a literary and artistic magazine that was published in the spring. All short stories, poems, artwork and other types of creative writing were compiled by students and published. The Helicon Concert was also held in the spring to raise funds for publication and provide an opportunity for those with other talents to participate in a production.

Musical acts made up most of this year's Helicon Concert, an evening designed to help finance its production.

Editors: Cathy Brown and Jim Potter.

SGA

The objective of the Student Government Association was to represent the needs and wants of the student body to the faculty, administration, and Board of Advisors/Trustees. Another function of SGA was to allocate and oversee the student activities budget in the academic, social, religious, and athletic areas of the college.

Executive Council: Secretary Kathy Gable, President Ron Dove, Vice-President Jim Wood, and Treasurer Lynn Pottenger.

SGA members: Rachel Sweitzer, Mari-Anne Bradley, Julie Baker, Paul Baumgardner, Mike Frasure, Eric Hayden, Sarah Beth Simmons, Michele Miller, Dave Bradley, Allen Hayes, Brian Nix, Chris Cottrell, Bert Cross, Wilbur Reid, Andy Baker, David Eversole, Lori Hertzog, Missy Buckles, Roger Roberts, Juan Villalba, David Hubbartt, Stacey Drogowski, Melissa Hall, Tim DeFord, Rick Hall, Phil Holdman, Keith Tolbert, Cathy Mullinax, and advisors Dean Derry and Mr. Barkes.

The Social Affairs Committee lead by Leslie Fowler.

The Academic Affairs Committee, led by Troy Hammond.

The Religious Affairs Committee, led by Tim Robinson.

Concert Choir

The Concert Choir sought to promote choral excellence and an appreciation for all styles of choral literature. They represented Milligan College by delivering God's message to man through the universal language of music. The choir performed at local churches in TN and gave special performances in convocation and Christmas vespers. During spring break, the singers visited various churches in northern United States to spread their gospel in song.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank this year's yearbook staff for a job well done. They have put a lot of busy hours into this book, and I am proud of each one's efforts. I hope you are rewarded with the final production.

I would also like to thank Dr. Magness for his support and encouragement throughout this past school year. What a rookie!

I sincerely hope this book provides each member of the Milligan family with a collection of unforgettable memories—certainly a "year of celebration."

Staff

The 1987 Buffalo staff is terrific! It is assembled on a volunteer basis, made up of willing students, usually those who worked on their high school yearbooks. The following list is divided by section with the first name in each being that Section's editor. Special recognition should be made to Marty Osborne, Tom Tomlinson, and the PR office for their help, and to Sandra Smith, our Herff-Jones representative.

Here we are at the end of our long and illustrious careers at Milligan. I am sure that for most of us there are quite a few more questions on our minds than answers. Where will we live? Will I really find a job? Will I get married? During our time at Milligan we learned many important facts and opinions, from Kenneth Clark's views on "civilisation" to Niebuhr's five positions of Christ in relation to the world. We have been well educated and should be prepared to take on the world. So, go get 'em!

Evening College

The Milligan Evening College program has a different scheduling of courses at night designed to meet the needs of working adults—those persons too busy living and working to pack up their families and go away to college. The College offers basic and advanced courses leading to majors and minors in Accounting, Business Administration and Computer Science. In addition, courses, workshops and seminars are available to upgrade present job skills and prepare the adult learner for career advancement.

Class of 1987

The Senior class was one of diverse personalities. On the following pages you can see some of the Seniors in their true natures, as well as in many of the activities that they participated in. One event, though, that they were all united in was their graduation ceremony. It was a beautiful but warm Sunday afternoon with relatives and friends everywhere on campus. May 17, 1987 marked a day of celebration for many as Knofel Station addressed the group, and Dr. Webb presented diplomas. We will miss this class and wish all the graduates the very best in the future.

Always smiling, Byron Cox, visits the new S.U.B.

David Eversole is always seen with books, isn't he, Phyllis?

Phil Holdman in his usual role of GQ man.

All-American ham, Tom Roberts.

Life at Milligan is great as Debby Patton smiles in agreement.

Lori Hertzog is being sneaky again!

Monica McQuiston and Jeff Reynolds smile for the camera at a Hart Hall open house.

More Seniors

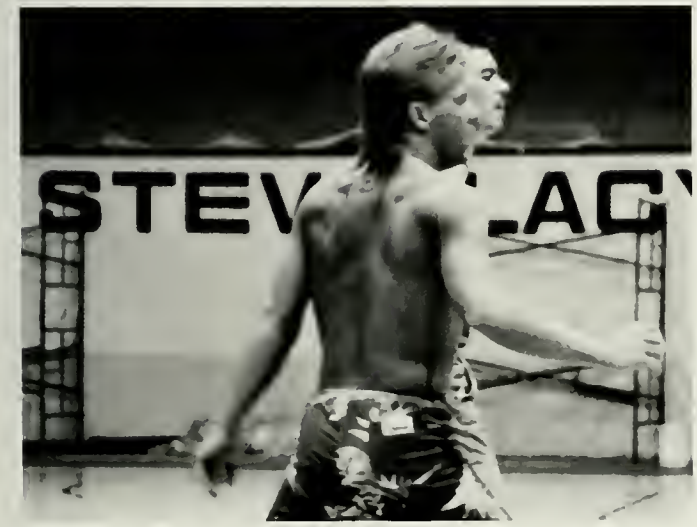
Lynda, you're facing the wrong way! Or are you?

A dashing duo—Tom Roberts and Brad Moorhouse.

Resting for a moment between classes is Norma Nehren.

"What more could a girl ask for?" questions Brent Billheimer.

Darren Harper waits patiently in Hart Lobby.



Is this Mr. Universe? No, it's just Tim Smith.

As Juniors, our largest responsibility was to raise money for the Junior-Senior banquet, and we achieved our goal. Through our car washes, concession sales, slave auction, pie throwing, carnation sales, and other activities, we raised over 3500 dollars! Our class earned more money than any previous class. Raising that large amount says a lot about us. We are achievers!

As we enter into our Senior year, let us remember what we have accomplished. Not just as a class, but also what we as individuals have achieved. Let us always strive to be better than before, in our Senior year and after Milligan.

Prelude to Halloween Night

" . . . As Jamie rounded the corner to his house, he was surprised by the presence of a huge jack-o-lantern on his front porch. The face was ghoulish, and Jamie shuddered slightly as it seemed to fix its eyes on his. "Just perfect," he thought, "much better than Nicholas' pumpkin." With that, he looked across the street at Nicholas' jack-o-lantern which was adorned with a silly grin. Jamie glanced back at his pumpkin and nodded his head in satisfaction . . . "

Hear Ye, Hear Ye

The wind whistles through the trees.
A single man holds all the keys.
A lone siren rings through the air,
But does anybody care?

The sea is deep; the waves are high.
In the wind echos a baby's cry.
A watchman's cry sounds in the air,
But does anybody care?

Tonight I come to make a stand.
Your blood's no longer on my hands.
The warning's sounded loud and clear,
But who tonight will hear?

Dear Dad,
You were right, as usual I've learned. A person's college schooling is very important, but his college education is more so. I've learned more this year than what Peter Ustinov and his ugly outfits told me. I've learned more than E.P.'s formulas, more than Beck's debits and credits, more than Dillon's romanticism, more than Allen's Rogerianism. Their words and wisdom have been extremely profitable, but beyond that is what I've learned about people. My fellow students are special; they have special needs and special talents. I think everyone has grown this year, and that means more than all the knowledge in the world. Thank you for teaching me how to love people, with their innate beauty, and with their idiosyncracies. I think that divine lesson is what our whole class has learned this year. They are all good people. I wish for them the world. They deserve it!

On August 23, 1986, we, the Freshmen, invaded Milligan.

We were a lost herd of wandering, dink-headed children with campus maps in hand. We came with one purpose: to be educated, directed, and enlightened in the Milligan Tradition. Fortunately, we have come to rid ourselves of the "Hi-I'm-a-Freshman-and-I'm-totally-lost" look and have become an ambitious and enthusiastic group well on our way to success. Fellow Freshmen, do not get overly excited about our progress. We still lack a great deal of finesse and sophistication. However, I assure you that by the time we are Seniors, we shall have achieved the missing elements.

Persevere and trust in God's love and power always!

In Christ's Love,
Rachel Sweitzer

P.S. Long live Kenneth Clark!!

Milligan College has been my home away from home for almost two years. Like many of the students, I am from out of state. When a holiday arrives and I have the opportunity to go home, I spend a lot of time on the road. For those who grow weary of the Interstate, one alternative is to drive through the Cumberland Gap and over Clinch Mountain. The countryside is beautiful throughout the seasons, especially during the spring when the trees are in bloom and in the fall when the leaves turn. The scenic overlook on Clinch Mountain provides travelers a chance to stop and see a magnificent view. Just a glimpse of it is shown here.

Milligan's surroundings have added to the Milligan College experience and most of the students leave here with a greater appreciation for this country and a love for the mountains of Tennessee.

THE LAST LEAF
" . . . And if I should live to be
The last leaf upon the tree
In the Spring,
Let them smile, as I do now,
At the old forsaken bough
Where I cling."

Mike Brooks and Paul Baumgardner happily pose for the camera.

Who is that masked woman? Could it be Rachel Sweitzer

Hanging out at the new SUB is David Frederick and Kyle Ray.

Fashion trend setters abound at Milligan and Julie Baker and Mike Frasure show their styles.

Congratulations

Missy Buckles!!!

On November 8, 1986, Melissa Dawn Buckles captured the title of Miss Watauga Valley, 1987. She received a $1,000 scholarship and earned the right to compete in June for the crown of Miss Tennessee.

The Miss Watauga Valley Pageant is a qualified preliminary of the Miss America scholarship program. It provides young women the opportunity to further their careers by providing financial assistance for education.

We take this opportunity to congratulate Missy on her success and wish the very best for her future!

Cynthia Ison Torbett—

Thank you for the Past.

Congratulations on the Present.

Best wishes for the Future!

—Your Dad, Mom, & Brother

Congratulations

Craig Kendrick!

We're proud of you and love you!

Good luck with the future—

—Marriage in June
—Law school in the fall

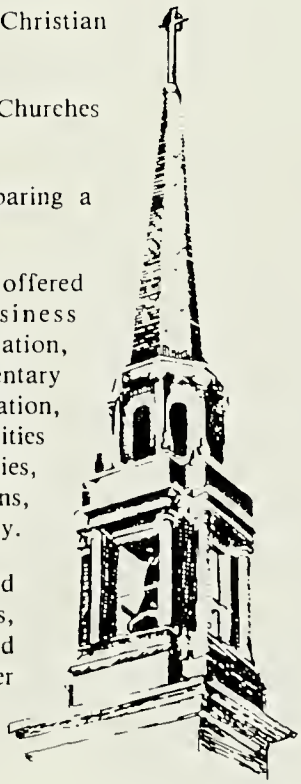
"Christian Education:

The Hope of the World"

Dr. Marshall J. Leggett

- Quality education in a community of Christian commitment.
- More than a century of service to Christian Churches and Churches of Christ.
- A qualified, caring faculty dedicated to preparing a priesthood of believers.
- Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees offered in Accounting, Bible, Biology, Business Administration, Chemistry, Christian Education, Communications, Computer Science, Elementary Education, English, Health Care Administration, Health and Physical Education, History, Humanities (including Psychology, Sociology, Social Agencies, and Youth Leadership), Mathematics, Missions, Music, Office Administration and Youth Ministry.
- Over 9,000 graduates; 6,000 now living and serving as ministers, missionaries, educators, business leaders, doctors, lawyers, and responsible Christian citizens in many other satisfying careers.



These pictures were placed in this book by request of the subjects' friends.

Lisa White shows her true nature.

Michele Miller—just a wild and crazy Hardinite!

Brian Nix—attentive as usual.

"Teddy, are you ready to go to bed" asks Laura Bennett.

Celebrating ...

What a year this has been! Milligan's "Year of Celebration" has finally come to a close. Although that statement brings about a sort of relief for many burned-out, brain-dead students, it also allows each individual time to reflect on the past year—for many, it's their last.

The celebrations have been many. The completion of the new McMahan Student Center was perhaps the largest and most obvious, but Spring Break, April snows, Wonderful Wednesday, and surviving finals week all brought Milligan students closer together. So, perhaps the most significant celebration this year was the sharing of unique friendships in the Spirit of Christ.

Below: Ok, Robin . . . you're supposed to be playing softball!

Right: Wayne Hatfield and Curtis Brunn have been in the festive mood since day one!

Below: One of the Pardee guys' favorite past-times—soaking innocent victims in the infamous WaterSlide!

Celebrating ...

This celebration is the difference between Milligan and other universities and colleges. For here at Milligan, we are united by the Spirit and bound by love in a way that wherever our individual paths lead us, the memories of our celebrations together will continue to be as much a part of us as our education. A favorite song by Club Nouveau sums up Milligan's celebration well: "Lean on me, when you're not strong, and I'll be your friend, I'll help you carry on . . . You just call on me, Brother, when you need a hand, We all need somebody to lean on." This type of friendship, coupled with our love for Jesus Christ, has truly made Milligan College a wonderful place to grow.
